

Build -a-Brooch Workshops

Barmulloch Residents Centre October 2018

I delivered a jewellery making session for mum's in a local playgroup. As busy mum's, this was relaxed opportunity for the participants to engage in making something for themselves.

Exploring using alternative materials such as wood and silk clay, participants were given the opportunity to use paint and other items to create their own individual design choosing between earrings, pendant or a brooch.

It was hugely rewarding to see how proud the participants were of their creations and gaining confidence in their creative abilities.

“Eileen’s encouragement meant that everyone was able to make something and the feedback we received from the group was fantastic - everyone was so amazed at what they had created“
